2

Self-introduction

Vocabulary

Polite words and phrases

[sàʔ-wàt-dii]   Hello!

[jin-dii-thîi-dâaj-rúu-càk]   Glad to meet you.

Nice to meet you.

Self-introduction

[chûɯ] name

[náam-thíp] Thai name for a woman

[phuu-phǎa] Thai name for a man

Self-introduction

[thîi-tham-ŋaan]   office

[thîi-rian]   schoolhouse

[máʔ-hǎa-wít-tháʔ-jaa-laj]   university

[rooŋ-pháʔ-jaa-baan]   hospital

Pronouns

[chăn], [chán]	(female speaker)	I, me
[phŏm]	(male speaker)	I, me
[khun]	(male or female)	you

Polite ending particles

[kháʔ] (female speaker) — polite ending particle of a question

[khâʔ] (female speaker) — polite ending particle of a statement or to show that one is listening

[khráp] (male speaker) — polite ending particle used when asking a question, making a statement and showing that one is listening

Question words

[thîi-nǎj] where (used at the end of a question and in this lesson the answer is a place)

[ʔàʔ-raj] what (used at the end of a question and in this lesson the answer is a name)

Sentence patterns

[sàʔ-wàt-dii khâʔ]

(female speaker)

Hello!

[sàʔ-wàt-dii khráp]

(male speaker)

Hello!

[chán chûɯ náam-thíp khâ?]

(female speaker)

My name is Namthip.

[phǒm chûɯ phuu-phǎa khráp]

(male speaker)

My name is Phupha.

[chán rian thîi máʔ-hǎa-wít-tháʔ-jaa-laj khâʔ]

(female speaker)

I study at the university.

[phǒm tham-ŋaan thîi rooŋ-pháʔ-jaa-baan khráp]

(male speaker)

I work at the hospital.

[jin-dii-thîi-dâaj-rúu-càk khâʔ]

(female speaker)

Glad to meet you.

[jin-dii-thîi-dâaj-rúu-càk khráp]

(male speaker)

Nice to meet you.